"More wonderful to build a soul,
To have a teacher's part
In moulding dreams and hopes that stir
The adolescent heart.
And when they win, thro' stress and strain,
More wonderful to be
The faithful teacher who can say:
They went to school to me."

Dedication

It is with deep feeling that the senior class dedicates this, the first edition of The Forester, to our principal, Mr. W. F. Almand, who has been our faithful friend and advisor throughout our high school years. To him we offer our sincere appreciation and gratitude for his kindly interest in our many problems and projects.

Foreword

In the fall of 1939, when the Seniors first began to discuss the possibilities of an annual, it seemed, at first like a dream to them. The difficulties involved, especially that of financing the project, appeared too large to overcome, and more than once the dream all but vanished in mid-air. The class realized that a great task was before them, and, in order that it be successful, they must work together one hundred percent. Grim determination, willing hearts and ready hands served to materialize the dream. A meeting was called, the Annual Staff was elected, the name for the year book was chosen, and the committees appointed. Work began in dead earnest. Mr. W. F. Almand, principle of the school, and Mrs. R. A. Everett, sponsor of the senior class were largely responsible for the printing of the first edition of The Forester.

The purpose of this book is to express the student life of Forest High School, as it actually happens. It is planned to picture, not only the school in its physical surroundings, but also to carry over effects of associations which we have gained from our social ideals and environment.

May this, The Forester, your annual in future years, bring to your memory the student body of 1939-40, and serve to recall the origin of this book.

HARRY EVERETT

The senior class! From the very first day of school responsibilities mingled with the joys that are peculiar to seniors only, began to heap themselves upon the capable shoulders of these forty-one boys and girls. Announcement was made that the rings had come, and immediately they were in the wearing. Class meetings were called, officers were elected, work began in earnest, class day, class plays, class socials were planned and shaped themselves into realities. An annual, the first in the history of the school was agreed upon as a worthy class project. R. H. Kirkland, an outstanding member of the senior class, was elected president. Dayton Whitten, the vice-president, ranked among the most likable members of the class. Clara Mae Owen, ever dependable, was the secretary, and Harry Everett, referred to as the best informed boy of the class, was treasurer. It is distinctive in that it is the largest number ever to go out from the school as one single class.

Mrs. Everett, kind, lovable, able and efficient sponsor of the seniors, has woven the class into a cooperative and amiable unit. It has been through her efforts and untiring work that this annual, the first in the history of the school, has become an actuality.

FOREST HI CARNIVAL

JUANITA OF THE HOUSE OF BRACEY, CURTIS OF THE HOUSE OF TURNER

EARLINE OF THE HOUSE OF BLACKBURN, HORACE OF THE HOUSE OF CROWE.

LOUISE OF THE HOUSE OF JACKSON, LEWIS OF THE HOUSE OF SUTTON

A spirit of fun and revelry reigned in the high school auditorium on Carnival Night when Queen Earline of the House of Blackburn and Horace of the House of Crowe were crowned queen and king. Heralded by William Lloyd Blackwell and Carroll Osborn, they marched to the strains of royal music to their throne, made beautiful with sparkling gems and glittering tinsel. Following them were their attendants, Princess Louise of the House of Jackson and her escort, Lewis of the House of Sutton; Princess Juanita of the House of Bracy and her escort Curtis of the House of Turner; Princess Gladys of the House of Sullivan and her escort Wilbur of the House of Harper. Graciously the Queen delivered her proclamation and gaiety was in order

POPULARITY CONTEST

Wisdom,- popularity,- witticism,- beauty,- these characterize our school.
Take Irene and Harry--they know all the answers;
Lizzie and Oliver--a part of every crowd;
Juanita and Ralph--the life of the party;
R. H. and Rufus--stars of the game.
Others add their charm, looks, friendliness, strength and fun.
All in all, we are one happy family.

BOXING

COACH ROBINSON

W. T. Robinson, one of the state's best boxing coaches, has turned out real champions. Because he has magnified the sport purely as a sport rather than a contest, he has developed a spirit of clean sportsmanship among those who have come in contact with his training, especially among his own boys who esteem, respect and love him. They say, "The state doesn't have a better one."

AND THE TROPHY

SECOND ROW: Curtis Tullos, second place winner, 165 pound class; Isaac Yates, who lost a hair-splitting decision; J. D. Brock, a first-year boy, 105 pounds with plenty of promise; Calvin Mangum, 112 pounds who doesn't wait for judges to give decisions-just takes 'em.

TOP ROW: W. T. Robinson, Coach. Laverne Roper who fought above his weight of 145 in the 155 bout to aid his team in point making; Ralph Moss, 135, third place man, and second place North East Louisiana man; Calvin Hammett whose short and powerful punches baffled his opponents, was a second place winner; Manager, Leroy Yates was there with goods at all times.

JAMES ARNOLD

The first time the trophy left the east side of the Macon„ Forest brought it home. With such boys as Jack Baxter, 98 pounds, who has won 37 and lost only four fights; the sportsman, Estus Ragland, 90 pounds; James Arnold, the surprising 126 pound "find" of North Louisiana, Forest High School could not miss the championship.

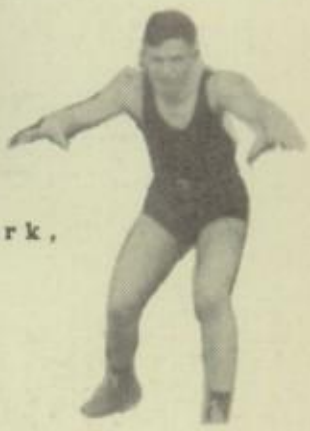
H. DUKES

The boy's basket ball team of 1940 has fought very faithfully. With their captain, Dick Ainsworth, and their guards, Copes and Peacock, supported by the forwards, Dukes and Ainsworth, the team had more than one interesting experience this season.



A. CLARK

COACH ROBINSON

Genial, sympathetic, understanding, but positive, has been the inspiration of the boy's basket ball team for four years.

Rah! rah! rah! In fact, fifteen of them for this junior team. They take their work seriously, and unless we miss our guess they'll be a winning team when their year rolls around.

MR. DILLWORTH

Although he directs the F.F.A., has proved himself a capable assistant to Mr. Robinson, and has added his share of encouragement and work to the basket ball team.

Maxine Crowe, Tressie McGowan, Juanita McNair, Audelle Culliver, Ruth Jean Brown, Lola Roberts, Lucille Waggoner, Christine Chapman, Lizzie Hollingsworth, Myrtle Harper.

CHRISTINE CHAPMAN

Honors and more honors have come to our school through this winning team. Systematic playing, cooperative team work unexcelled sportsmanship made them winners. They played a good game in every tournament bringing home distinction, Christine leading in sportsmanship and good playing. The whole team was acclaimed on every occasion as outstanding sports. In Monroe, at the North East Louisiana Tournament they really made folks "sit up and take notice."

JUANITA MCNAIR

Miss Bessie Everett coaches the girls team, and her work has produced a winning one. She is always ready with plans, suggestions and encouragement--never misses an opportunity to give her girls the advantage of playing ball at home or abroad. She directs but she's plenty fun and the girls love her.

Mrs. Peacock, coach, Louise Fleming, Tommy Loyd Sherman, Nannette Harper, Helen Rodden, Billy Everett, Hilma Wells, Era Mai Davis, Hazel Brown, Arzell Brunner, Claudine Geralds.

Just to be sure that Forest will always have winners, Mrs. Peacock is preparing this second team which has already proved its worth and its ability in many junior games.

VOLLEY BALL-----SOFT BALL

Miss Russell's smile gets places before she does, or how could these freshmen and sophomores play such snappy volly ball games?

BACK ROW: Mrs. Everett, Juanita Bracey, Louise Jackson, Ina Hollingsworth, Helen Shields, Louise Chambliss, Hazel Butler, Maxine Vinson, Jerilene Watts, Clara Mae Owens, Maxine Coates, Mary Knowles, Estelle Hughes, Ocen Edmonson.

The old regulars back for the boy's tennis team this year included Marvin Lockard, whose determination to win made him a threat until the last point was over; Horace Crowe, whose well-balanced games enabled him to cope with the best; Carroll Osbourne, who used his head and combination of strokes to out do his opponent; Harry Everett, who liked the game and liked to play it; William Loyd Blackwell, who pushed his way to a starting position on the team and improved each match he played.

H. CROWE

Mr. Everett, a competent tennis player, began a new and vigorous campaign for new tennis players early in the season. Keeping in mind the record established in 1924-1927 by Mildred Crowe, a product of our school, who held the state championship for four years, and of W. T. Robinson, North Louisiana champion in 1930, and Baton Rouge open city champion in 1935, he aspired to regain these honors. He keeps a hopeful eye on this group.

"Epiloque"

"Our revels now are ended. These our actors,
As I foretold you, were all spirits, and
Are melted into thin air;
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve,
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are mdde of, and our little life
Is rounded like a sleep."

-Prospero in Wm. Shakespeare's
"The Tempest."
